IL J The young man who was arrested by Officer Hazard, Wednesday morning charged with stealing goods from the stores of James Hammond and Stephen Hammett was examined before the Court of Justices. yesterday. He gave his name as Dolon; he was found guilty, and for want of sureties to appear at the Supreme Court in March for trial, was committed to Jail.

The following despatch was recieved in London just as the Pacific was leaving her wharf:---

PARIS, 1 o'clock, P. M. Saturday. A courier from Bucharest confirms the accounts of the war on the Danube having been recommenced. The Russians in torce crossed above Tulscha, defeated the Turks, took the town, and are now marching on the Katchia. The Austriane do not interfere. This report has caused some consternation.

Ma. Epiron :-

What encouragement have I to pay cash for articles of domestic consumption? My neighbor settles his bill the first day of January, (that is, if he does) and then commences another account, which rups until the first day in next January, one year,-and yet pays no more for his goods than I do who pay when I purchase. Not long since I was in a store in Providence, and the Merchant, addressing an inquirer of prices, replied, "I charge so much," naming the sums, "for cash; and if I charge, it will be so much," specifying a larger Hum "at four anonths, the longest period of credit -

The Snow Storm In New Hampshire. The Munchester Mirror, of Saturday says Here the snow fell to the depth of about twenty inches. But to the north of us the stories told of its depth are incredible. It was t legraphed to this place from Danburg, this State, that the snow was six feet deep! It would seem that a much greater quantity had fallou at the upper part of the State than here.

The alterations which she is undergoing, by substituting steam en gines (of a new, fuel saving plan) for the calcric, are on account of the old proprietor. Holloway's Ointment and Pills have effectually Cured a Wound in the Leg and Prevented it being Amoutated .- The following extraordinary cure by Captain Smith, of Yarmouth, to Mr. Dixon, chemist, Norwich. "Mr. John Walton, late in Her Majesty's Service in the British Fleet, at Malta, had on alcerated wound in the ankle, for which he was in the Malta Hospital six months, afterwards in Portsmouth Hospital for four months here, as at Malta, refusing to have the limb amputated, he was turned out incurable other medical aid failed also : when by Captain! Smith's recommendation, he tried Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which is three months cured him, and he is now it perfect health and Coast Guard Officer at Newhaven."

Sir Charles Napier .- The German Punch has a capital picture of Admiral Napier with a carpet bag in his hand, being asked by some person, "What are you do ing round Hamburgh ?" He answers, "I promised to take Cronstadt or Sweabourg, and dere not go home till I have done so. thus is the best translation that can be givea, aithough the point is much better in German.

The following mournful account was given in the San Francisco Chronicle. It relates to a son of Stephen A. Wright, of South Kingstown :-

Adventures After Death .-- Mr. Stephen J. Wright, a young man of 19 years, was killed by the explosion of the steamer Secretary, on the 15th of April last, in the bay of San Raphael. His friends here offered n reward of $500 for the body, and it was recovered, brought to this city, buried in Yerba Buena Cemetery, and a monument erected upon the grave. Mr. Wright, the father, formerly of this city, was then residing at Wukefield, Rhode Island. On hearing the news of his son's death, he directed the body to be disintered and forwarded to his native place. The request was complied with; the collin was placed in charge of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, and shipped via Panama. Off the Coast of Cuba the passengers held an indignation meeting on board the stexmer on account of the stench arising from the decomposed body, and they had the collin thrown overboard. The parents were much afflicted at this Inews, and the father took the next steamer from New York, in the hope of hearing that the coffin had floated ashore, or of possibly seeing it at sea from the deck of the steamer. He arrived at Panama, without hearing anything of his son's remains, and supposing them to be hopelessly lost, came on to this city. By the last mail he has received a letter informing him that on the 20th of October the coffin was found on the beach of Boca Chica, near Key West, off the coast of Florida, and there buried. The inscription on the coffin gave the finders a clue to its destination, and they addressed a note to Wells, Fargo & Co., who wrote to Wakefield. Orders were transmitted to have the remains again disinterred and forwarded to Wakefield, where they have now probably found their last resting place. The young man had been a resident of this city for some time, and, as we are informed, was much esteemed.

The Return Presents from Japan -- The Washington Star gives the following information respecting the presents sent to the President by the Emperor of Japan :-

We understand that sundry packages of the presents sent to the President by the Emperor of Japan, in return for those forwarded from hence by the hands of Com. Perry, have reached Washington, with them being sundry packages at present for officers of the expedition, which under the law, must be deposited, at least temporarily, in the State Department. That is, until Congress may give them leave to accept them.

The contents of the mckages are said to be silks, awords, writing tables, delicate and other muterials, umbrellas, mais, bells, jars, cabinets, flower box, lances, Japan matting, stone from Japan stone from Loo Chee. agricultural implements, Japan shine, [query, misprint for shrine?] marked from Sindda, hermetically sealed, samples of sugar cane, seven dogs, two birds, seed wheat from the Cape of Good Hope, &c.

We hear that the dogs are of a breed which none but the aristocracy of the Eurpire keep, as they are very costly. In the time of Charles II. a similar imperial present of dogs was sent to Rome by the Emperor of Japan, from which the celebrated European breed of King Charles spannels sprung. Those sent to the President by Commodore Perry are much like the King Charles breed of the present day, though considerably larger.

The Hon. Edward Everett in a letter to the Webster Association at Boston, on the occasion of their celebration of that states man's birth day, enclosed an extract, from a letter, which says: Upon my arrival at Florence, I of course paid a visit to our distinguished countryman, Mr. Powers, to whom I delivered your letter of introduction. He gave me a hearty welcome, and I took great delight in examining the exquisite works now in his studio. He permitted me also to see the statue of Webster, on which he is now engaged for the city of Boston. He has moulded the whole figure in rough, so to say, and a good idea of it can now be formed. The lofty bearing of the great man can now be seen; his erect figure, his noble forehead, and his inajestic countenance, can be well traced in the speaking clay. He is presented as holding the Constitution of the United States in his right hand, and in his left adhering to the Union. The conception is exceedingly appropriate, and I doubt not the execution will be admirable."

Ludicrous Race.-The Albany Express gives the particulars of a funny race between a highly respectable citizen of Brooklyn, and an equally respectable resident of Albany. A wager was made on a run to Troy (10 miles) and back The parties started at 6 o'clock P. M., Friday, the road being in a terrible condition, mud knee deep. Who reached Troy first is not stated, but the twain reached Albany at five o'clock on Saturday morning-the Albanian slightly ahead. On the road, a huge bull dog made a fierce assault on Albany, when Brooklyn drew a pitsol and shot the dog.

Why are tashionably dress ladies like the bushes by the road side in the roral districts ? Because they skirt!the street.

GREAT PEDESTRIAN FEAT.-The extraordinary feat of walking during one hundred and two sonsecutive hours has been performed in California by a man named James Peeler. He commenced walking at four minutes past 3 P. M., December 13th and atopped at four minutes past 9 P. M., Decomber 17th. His pulse, it is stated, varied but little throughout the time of walking his limbs did not swell nor his feet blister. No severity of any kind was necessary to keep him wakeful.

Chloreform and Bebbery in the Cars .-The Rochester Democrat states that on Friday, last week, a young woman took the cars for the West, at a station a short distance beyond Utica. Her baggage was checked for fluffalo. After proceeding a short distance upon the journey, a woman who was a passenger, with an effected desire to relieve the loneliness of the young lady, took a seat with her, became very sociable, and among other marks of familiarity, offered her bottle of smelling salts, which was accepted and used, and the result was, the young woman was made insensible by chloroform inhaled from the vinalgratte, and robbed of her money and laggage checks. Let every one beware of plausible strangers in the curs.

& MIND WHAT YOU PHY .- A case came up for trial a few days since in New York wherein one party sued another for the value of forty bags of peas. The plaintiff was a coffee roaster, and had contracted with the defendant for two hundred and fifty bags of peas, which it appeared, were to be ground up with the coffee. Some curious developements came out in the course of the trial, showing the extent to which pear, chicory, and other substances are used for the article which is sold as pure ground coffec.
